REV. V. K. AUBREY NAMED HEAD OF WORK TO BE DONE

A conference of representatives from various organizations of our city was held in the office of Mr. Jess McLendon at ten o'clock this morning and it was decided that it would be advisable to raise funds for a COMMUNITY CHEST in the near future. Rev. Victor K. Aubrey was appointed leader of Community Chest Campaign, for coming year.

The advisory committee is preparing a budget which is to include adequate provision for the work of the Salvation Army, Charity, the Red Cross, and other related causes. The committee is endeavoring to carefully investigate each claim for financial support and assures the public that the expenditure of all money collected will be carefully guarded by those of our own local citizenship in charge of each particular organization.

Rev. Aubrey states that the Campaign will be carefully planned and organized and that each club, church, and organization of the city will be expected to do its part to make the Community Chest a success. It is a well known fact that all of the leading aggressive cities are adopting this plan for providing for the needs of the community work. It has been the plan utilized this past year in Mexia and the work has been conducted without special appeals for money which are so numerous under the old system. The Salvation Army, the Red Cross, and caring for the poor, sick and needy, is a worthy work and is better done under proper supervision. The Community Chest is a good thing for Mexia and never have the people of Mexia failed to support a cause when they were really convinced of its worthy character.

Mr. Boyd of the Mexia News, who was present at the meeting promised the support of the newspaper. Mr. J. K. Hughes pledged $510.00 for the Community Chest. Mr. Womack said that he would make his pledge the same as last year. It was suggested that if those who contributed last year gave on the same basis again this year that the Community Chest would be filled for the amount required.

"Ma" Ferguson Has Namesake

(By United Press)
PORT ARTHUR, Nov. 17.—Introducing what is believed to be the first namesake of Mrs. Miriam E. Ferguson, Texas' next governor. She is Miss Miriam Evelyn Manning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Manning, Port Arthur. She came into the world just a few hours after "Ma" had registered her history making feat.

The fact that girls have been cheated in the past in the matter of being named after illustrious statesmen and warriors may mean there'll be a bumper crop of "Miriams" and future "Mas," during the next two years, it is believed.

AT ELPASO TODAY A. F. OF L. OPENS MEETING OF YEAR

(By United Press)
EL PASO, Texas, Nov. 17.—An address by its president, Samuel Gompers, and the annual report of the executive committee, was to be the first order of business at the opening session of the 44th annual convention of the American Federation of Labor here today.

Representatives of more than 100 labor organizations in the United States, embracing a membership of some 3,000,000, were here to participate in the convention.

A committee on resolutions was to be named soon after the session got under way.

The guests Sunday of the Mexican Federation of Labor, which is holding its convention at Juarez. A bull fight featured the entertainment program.

Today's session was to be called to order by President Gompers at 10 a.m. Mountain Time. Following addresses of welcome by George Slater, president of the Texas Federation, and others, the veteran labor chieftain was to sound the call for organized labor to unite its forces and prepare to fight any attempt at wage reductions. The gavel to be used by Gompers in calling the convention to order, is made of wood from a historic red gum tree at Nacogdoches, Texas, under which General Sam Houston conferred with Spanish and Indians on a land treaty in early days.

The executive council's report which outlined the convention's deliberations was to be presented next. It included the questions of whether labor should continue its present non-partisan political policy or support a labor party movement, whether labor shall recommend recognition of Soviet Russia and whether the carpenter's union with a membership of 350,000 shall be expelled for failure to reaffiliate with the building trades department.

FEW HOURS OLD INFANT FOUND ON DOORSTEP MONDAY

About day light Monday morning one of the employees of the Mexia Battery and Tire Station No. 1 was attracted by the sound of a crying baby coming from in front of the Henson Hotel on Palestine street. Upon investigation he discovered a small pasteboard box barely fifteen inches square containing a small baby girl which was apparently only five or six hours old. The baby was clad in a cheaply made dress which looked as if it had been made for it, and was resting on a bed made of soft cotton which had been pulled from inside a mattress, the cover had been pulled over the box to keep the baby as warm as possible but it had been on the sidewalk long enough to become chilled.

Chief of Police Albert Mace was immediately notified of the discovery and took the baby in charge; upon being carried near the fire and again becoming warm the tiny baby ceased crying and seemed very well contented. Chief Mace notified Dr. M. M. Brown who suggested that the baby be carried to the Brown Hospital where it was given medical attention. It apparently is getting along all right upon being given nourishment and a warm bed.

Chief Mace is working on the case and hopes to solve the mystery of the missing parents, although he has no clue with the exception of the box which contained the baby. It is thought that the baby was brought from a nearby town and left on the sidewalk on Palestine street where it was found a few hours later.

This belief is based on the fact that the tiny little soul was placed in a box used for canned corn, which kind is not handled by any local wholesale or retail house.

It was apparent that the child had been born only a few hours and had not received medical attention, until taken in charge by Dr. Brown of the Brown Hospital.

The baby will probably be turned over to the Salvation Army authorities who have already asked for it, pending its adoption which is very probable as the Police Station has had many calls asking for permission to adopt the baby girl.

MARLAND PARTY VISITS NORTH EAST MEXIA DISTRICT

The Marland Special reached the Mexia Oil field district Sunday, including President Marland and about 15 of the most prominent men in the oil fraternity in the United States.

Hearing that Colonel A. E. Humphreys of the Bold Oil Company, President Marland, of Ponca City, Oklahoma, the entire party transferred to automobiles from their special car at Corsicana and visited the Northeast Mexia district. There they spent quite a while in conference. The party visited the Boyd Boyd lease, where Colonel Humphreys was personally supervising the work building the dam across Tehuacana creek. He escorted the party of visitors to the Boyd number 1 on the Boyd and opened up the test which roared so loud that speaking was difficult to hear close up, spraying wet gas.

President Marland was much impressed with the prospects. His company, which holds over a hundred thousand acres in leases in Texas, has some acreage in the Northeast Mexia territory. Mr. Marland is considered one of the big men in the petroleum world. Of him, Colonel Humphreys said: "He is the biggest independent oil man in the U. S. and the biggest individual in the oil game."

On the Boyd lease 2 one thousand flow tanks have been erected and another is going up. It is rumored, too, that the Boyd Oil Company has a 55 ordered.

Mr. Marland is in Texas inspecting the oil field of the state and has just returned from Reagan County, where E. L. Smith Oil Company and J. K. Hughes Developing Company have started a joint well in the new field on University land. Mr. Marland states that details have been completed for the new pipe line to that field.

Business picked up in the prospective producing area this morning when the Kirby Petroleum Company made three new locations on the J. S. Bounds, just south of Wortham and started moving on. It is believed that the E. L. Smith Oil Company will also start a well on the company's 8 1/2 acre lease adjoining the Kirby's acreage.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of age Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance—a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous.

A committee of ladies and gentlemen met at the office of Jesse Mc-Lendon this morning to go over the charity needs of Mexia for the future year and the means of taking care of the situation. Local doctors are urging the retention of the Salvation Army almost to the man, if not everyone of them.

The Salvation Army Sunday School continues to grow. In recent months, while the contest has been on, the attendance has jumped from around 50 to 75 every Sunday afternoon.

WHOLE COMMUNITY SHARES IN BENEFITS OF THRIFT

By S. W. STRAUS,
President American Society for Thrift

THE president of a building and loan association in a small Western town recently told of the erection of five new houses in that community. These houses, he said, involved an expenditure of $22,000. Seventeen workmen benefited directly from the money paid for labor. In addition, it was found upon investigation that exactly 63 business firms benefited either directly through purchases of materials and household furnishings or indirectly through money spent by the 17 laborers.

This is an illustration of some of the general community benefits that come from personal thrift. It was the thrift of only five families that made possible the erection of the houses, yet practically everyone in the community shared in the results, directly or indirectly.

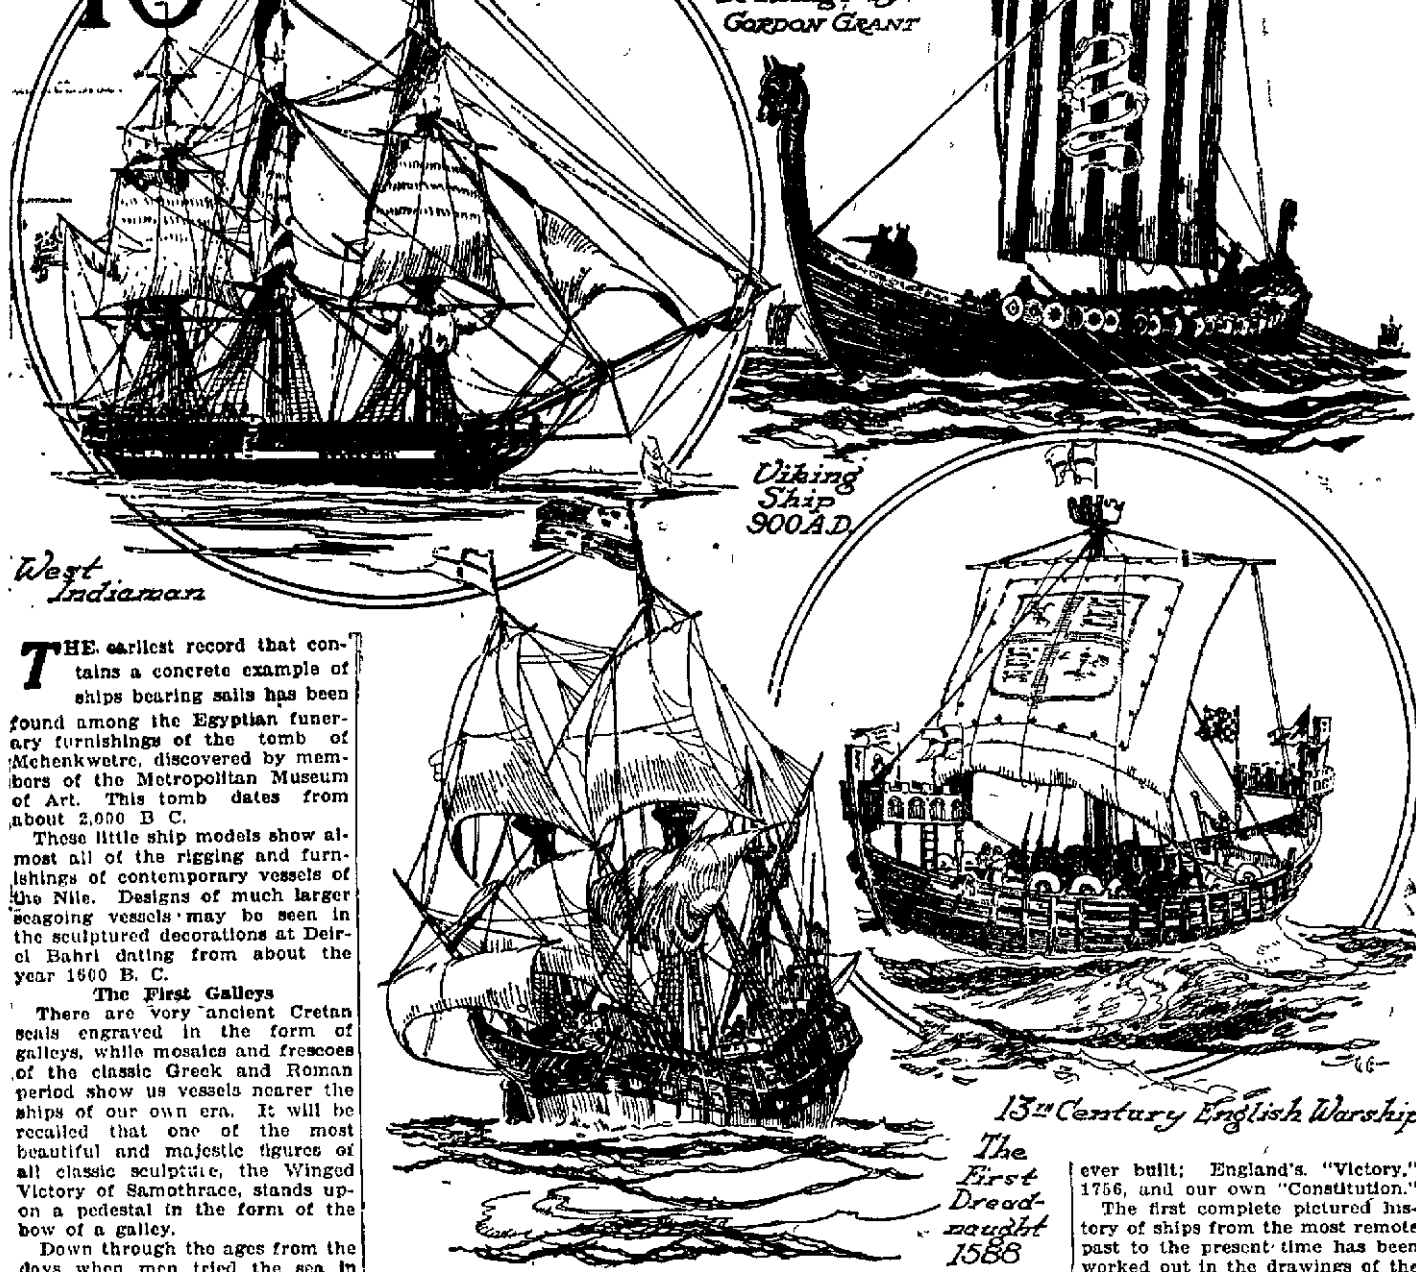

One sometimes hears the theory advanced that thrift hurts business because people who are economical do not spend much money. In former years this fallacious reasoning was much more prevalent than it is today.

The business man in any community makes no mistake in encouraging thrift, even when looked at from the most selfish standpoint. Money that is saved finds its way immediately into the channels of trade, and all lines of legitimate business share in the results.

All of this is in addition to the moral, mental and material advantages to the individual whose thrift practices start the endless chain of wholesome processes. Community leaders can do nothing of greater constructive civic value than to give all possible encouragement to thrift.

40 Centuries of Ships

Drawings by
Gordon Grant

THE earliest record that contains a concrete example of ships bearing sails has been found among the Egyptian funerary furnishings of the tomb of Amenhotep, discovered by members of the Metropolitan Museum of Art. This tomb dates from about 2,000 B. C.

These little ship models show almost all of the rigging and furnishings of contemporary vessels of the Nile. Designs of much larger sailing vessels may be seen in the sculptured decorations at Deir-el Bahri dating from about the year 1800 B. C.

The First Gallies
There are very ancient Cretan seals engraved in the form of galleys, while mosaics and frescoes of the classic Greek and Roman period show us vessels nearer the ships of our own era. It will be recalled that one of the most beautiful and majestic figures of all classic sculpture, the Winged Victory of Samothrace, stands upon a pedestal in the form of the bow of a galley.

Down through the ages from the days when men tried the sea in rafts and dugout canoes, to the superb clippers, of the fifties, ships have shown the progress of mankind. One of the most important dates in the records of antiquities of sailing ships is the Viking Longship discovered at

Gokstad in Norway in the year 1883. It is a fine example of a ship built about the year 900 A. D. After that the best documentary evidence is that furnished in the engravings of ships of the master of the 15th century who signed them with a mark something like the letters "W. A.". The history and romance of the sea is replete with such high lights as 1639, the date of the launching of the "Sovereign of the Seas," one of the most elaborately decorated ships ever built; England's "Victory," 1756, and our own "Constitution."

The first complete pictured history of ships from the most remote past to the present time has been worked out in the drawings of the well known marine artist, Mr. Gordon Grant. These drawings in the "Book of Old Ships," with text by Henry B. Culver, show the romance and the mystery of the sea in the fading memory of the sailing ships of other days.

World War Made U. S. Coast Defense Obsolete, Report

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—As a result of the World War, practically all the seacoast fortifications and other defenses of the United States and its possessions became obsolete, due to developments in the range and power of artillery mounted on capital ships, and it is part of the work of the Engineer Corps to work out and build new defenses, according to the annual report of Major-General Harry Taylor, Chief of Engineers, to the Secretary of War, made public today.

The World War, General Taylor's report asserted, showed that not only were these defenses underpowered in major armament, but defense against aircraft was either lacking or totally inadequate. The only anti-aircraft searchlights available were those purchased during the war, which were limited in number and in many cases unsuitable.

Practically all available railroad artillery will be of value in strengthening our coast defenses, General Taylor reports, but the 14-inch, 50-calibre 1920 model gun is the only one which may be classed as major seacoast armament, and its availability only in limited numbers.

"The effective use of mobile railway artillery depends primarily upon the capability of existing railroads to transport it," General Taylor's report asserts, "and, fortunately, data collected indicate that the more important units can be moved with comparative freedom throughout the United States and can be installed in a short time. Firing positions for railway artillery are now being selected."

In his report, General Taylor reveals that during the year the Board of Engineer Equipment at Fort Humphreys, Va., which is charged with the development of engineer equipment, has developed light, medium and heavy types of pontoon equipment; portable steel highway bridges, pile drivers and bathing units, gasoline pumping sets and shop truck units, and has made extensive tests in burlap substitutes and with tractors.

Notre Dame Loses 21 Letter Players of Gridiron Team

(By International News Service)
NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Stuhldreher, Crowley, D. Miller and Layden, forming the greatest backfield of recent years, will have taken themselves hence. So will Adam Walsh, probable All-American center, and Bach and Collins, possible All-American tackle and end respectively, to say nothing of twenty-one monogram men in all. That is Notre Dame's prospect for the season of 1925.

It is not a very alluring one. In fact, the Irish would seem to be in for the first indifferent team they have known in modern football. Even Knute Rockne, the miracle coach who annually makes orchids bloom where only cactus grew before, concedes that all may not be well in 1925.

"It will do them good to have a losing season," says Rockne, always a philosopher. "It will teach them that life is not always a winning proposition. A few hard knocks are a good thing for any young man or team."

This does not mean, however, that Rockne is resigned to a bad year; merely that he fears the worst. For the first time since he has been identified with Notre Dame football there will be no respectable residue of veteran material remaining between seasons. Not only his great backfield, but all of its immediate substitutes, barring O'Boyle, will pass on.

This means that Rockne will have to build his attack around O'Boyle, necessitating a change of system. The present one demands so much painstaking application to detail that a green backfield could hardly hope to master it, particularly the intricacies of the shift, in a single season.

They say that Rockne ran around during an entire week this year, shouting at the letter-perfect combination of Stuhldreher, Miller, Crowley and Layden:

"Rhythm, rhythm, rhythm!" They perform now like a bevy of classical dancers, but at that time he was far from satisfied with them. A new combination, therefore, would send him into hysterics.

That Rockne means to alter his attack next year is indicated by the fact that he plans to use Hanover, a second string punter, as his full back. Hanover is reasonably fast for a big man, but is hardly the Notre Dame type of back featured by Rockne in the last half dozen years. His appearance in the backfield probably means that Rockne will shift his style of attack to a running and passing game such as he used several years ago. His passing has been negligible this fall because of the great running ability of Don Miller, Crowley and Layden. The overhead game merely has been employed as a threat.

This only goes to show Rockne's adaptability to conditions, as does the fact that his first team hasn't been scrimmage since Oct. 4 and will not be during the present season. He has a light team and has to save his men somehow, but only Rockne would dare save them at the expense of the daily workout. Rockne, however, dares anything and everything. That is one of the abiding factors in his success.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga. (Adv.)

England Fears U. S. Supremacy in Air Traffic

LONDON, November 12. — The United States is destined to lead the world in international aerial transportation, some experts here predict. The flight of the ZR3, from Germany to New Jersey, the acquisition of that airship by the United States, and the plan for German Zeppelin exports to join Americans in building dirigibles at Akron, Ohio, mark the beginning, many here believe, of a new aerial era—in which America will take first place.

Transportation men here say that the United States will accomplish in the air all that she failed to do on the sea. By that they mean that the U. S. Shipping Board means failed in the North Atlantic to take away the business of the other companies, mostly British, flying between New York and England and Channel ports. They mean that in the opinion of British seamen, shippers and transportation experts, the United States post-war merchant marine has been pretty much of a flop. They mean that American outfits have failed to grab the North Atlantic carrying trade on the surface of the sea—and they mean, look out if the Yanks ever start to running airships instead of steamboats across the Atlantic.

And the ZR3 paves the way for America to do just that thing, authorities on this side declare.

Between 1914 and 1918 the Germans made amazing developments in the Zeppelin. Now, with German experts who know all the secrets, working at Akron with Americans who are certainly not shy in either skill, inventiveness or money, the ultimate product is expected when that is done a regular transatlantic aerial passenger and goods carrying service will be simple enough.

In four years, from 1914 to 1918, the Germans increased the volume of lifting gas in Zeppelins from 704,250 to 3,812,400 cubic feet; increased the "useful load" from 8 tons to 82 tons; increased the speed from 47 to 83 miles per hour. Most important of all, the "aerostatic coefficient of utilization" was increased from 29 per cent in 1914 to 59 per cent in 1918. This "co-efficient" expresses the relation between the useful load which an airship can carry and the total weight of that airship. It means that in 1912 two-thirds of the load was wasted. Most of the load the Zeppelin carried then was itself. Now more than half its load is "useful"—that is, passengers, freight, mail, baggage.

Experts point to this progress and say: "Great guns if the Germans and the Americans get together in building Zeppelins and continue the improvement—as no doubt they will—there's no telling how far they will go! And no other European country can ever touch them. No other country even has a start. They'll have the Atlantic air trade grabbed!"

Steamships cannot materially increase their present Atlantic schedules. Even to speed up a few knots an hour runs up a huge, and disproportionate, coal or oil bill, and the few hours gained in the crossing is not worth while from a business standpoint. It is utterly impossible for steamships to compete in speed with airships. Heavy shipments and relatively slow traffic, freight and passenger, will no doubt continue always to be by ship—but the fast stuff, passenger, mail and goods will be zipping over the Atlantic in American Zeppelins, operating on regular bi-weekly service before very many years—if the dopestors on this side know what they're talking about.

HINTS TELL HOW TO REDUCE GAS BILLS

Gas wasted performs no useful work but must be paid for.

Ethel R. Peyser in House & Garden gives a few simple rules governing the proper use of burners. First of all she says to use only a low blue flame and to keep the burners and oven clean.

"Use the simmerer and not the giant burner for everything possible, and herein lies a material saving. Use it to keep food warm and for slow top range cookery. It's easier, too, to keep the simmerer where you want it, than the large burner.

"The top lighter is the best economy on the range. Always see that it is lit before the other burner is turned on.

"The ranges with pilot lights require no matches. But see that this pilot light is lighted and does not go out and let gas escape.

"Boiling point is 212 degrees. Don't keep your water boiling so long and hard with the large flame, for you can't get more than boiling point and you are wasting money. Turn the flame down and save money.

"You will save the discoloration of your pots and pans inside, above the water line if you use the burner a little smaller than the utensil.

"Slow cookery with small flame gives the best results in boiling, roasting etc.

"Keep the covers on your utensils for the most part, and have them fit well.

"Turn off the burner even if you are going to use it in a few moments—for you waste too much gas, as minutes pass into hours.

"Remember in the use of gas, it's always easier to use too much, than too little. Gas is intensely hot and a little goes a long way.

Girls' Trick in Figured Crepe

Paris Varies the Youthful Waistline

The printed silks of bold design and bright coloring are favored for frocks for girls this season. Straight lines and simple designs keep these French models within the requirements of the youthful

Two or three unusual features distinguish the frock for young girls which calls for 2 1/2 yards of 35-inch figured crepe and one-half yard of Georgette for trimming. In addition to two yards of lace edging and two yards of ribbon, the sleeves are cut in one with the waist and the neck is finished with a round collar scalloped at the front and divided on the shoulders.

The illustration shows how to whip the lace to the edge of the Rolling edge of georgette and adding lace.

With girls, as with the elders, Paris is undecided about the waistline, so by cleverly using twin ribbon belts, she is able to feature it in both high and low effect.

This model is so simple and easy to make that many mothers, as well as girls who are old enough to sew for themselves, will use it in other materials for the fall.

Temporary Relief Planned By U. S. For Farm Districts

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—The commission appointed by President Coolidge to advise him on agricultural policies will make a study going far beyond the problem of temporary relief.

President Coolidge has instructed the commission to be prepared to report to him measures which may become fundamental factors in a permanent governmental policy toward agriculture.

The president disclosed in his speech to the land grant college meeting last night that he is convinced an era of tremendous change is approaching in American farming. He believes that "within a very few years" the United States will become one of the greatest buyers of farm products instead of one of the greatest sellers.

With this fundamental revolution imminent in the American farming world Mr. Coolidge believes the Government should be prepared with an adequate policy toward agriculture. In a general way measures should be taken to assure the American farmer the most scientific means of production and distribution.

"If we permit our farming population to fall to the level of a mere agricultural peasantry they will carry down with them the general social and economic level," he pointed out.

The President did not indicate in his speech last night what the scope of the new farm policy might be. He will deliver another address November 17 before the Agricultural commission which is expected to outline his plans more definitely.

Keep on telling 'em and you will keep on selling 'em. News advertising brings desired results.

Rheumatism

"Good-bye old crutch!"

THERE IS positively no longer any excuse for suffering the agonies of rheumatism! Especially in the autumn of your life, when the vital organs weaken, impurities multiply and linger in the muscles and joints, as never before. It is now, just now, when you cannot afford to guess. No day returns!

Here is a joyous fact which can mean to you a fond farewell forever to all the miseries, the tortures, the body-twisting pains that you have suffered from the demon of rheumatism. It is a fact that rheumatism means "blood poverty." It is a fact with the increase of red-cells in your blood, impurities are destroyed. It is a fact that S.S.S. will help Nature build these red-blood-cells! S.S.S. is one of the most powerful blood cleansers in existence. Its results in thousands of rheumatic cases have been nothing short of amazing! The medicinal ingredients of S.S.S. are purely vegetable. This is very important to remember! What can be more inspiring, more wonderful than to see the shackles of pain released from your struggling body, swellings, lingering pains, stiffness of joints and muscles all disappear; your stomach made strong; your face pink with the old sweet-heart glow; your blood enriched and your cheeks more plump as they used to be. You can do it! Take S.S.S., the great destroyer of rheumatic impurities.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

By HECK.

Well, the Black Cats did it and did it to a frazzle as per my dope and just because they came back fighting when it looked like a sure win for Palestine. However, my dope as to the score was all wrong and I don't think anyone thought what the Cats would roll up forty points and everybody expected Palestine to tally more than fourteen. The few fans who were on the Palestine side lines suffered forty different kinds of suffers during that first half when the Cats played about the worst football I have ever been forced to watch.

The first three plays tried by the Cats were fumbled and on the fourth down Mexia had about forty yards to make—Boy, it sure did look bad from there on until the end of the first half.

Dick Buford, who has not made much headway since the Coolidge game, came back with a bang and taking the initial kickoff under the Cat goal posts legged it for ninety eight yards and the Cats first touchdown in just exactly seventeen seconds after the game opened. However the Palestine bunch set their heavy backs in motion and tore the Cat line to ribbons and reeled off yards after yards in a seemingly never ending string and went over for a touchdown without losing the ball.

Every Cat played just about as rotten as possible during the Palestine parade and a few minutes later Mexia was forced to kick from their ten yard line the heavy charging tackle of Palestine broke through, blocked the punt and fell on the ball on Mexia's one yard line and proceeded to put over a touchdown after four heavy assaults on the Cat line. The Cats tied the score at fourteen all when captain Thompson plunged over for a touchdown just before the half ended.

At the end of the first half Coach Poter took the Cats off in a corner of the park and delivered a grand oration that would do credit to the masters of the dark ages and when the second half opened an entirely different Cat eleven trotted out on the field meowing and spitting.

To go into details would be a long, long story but I will say that I have never yet seen such a remarkable comeback and reversal of form as the Cats uncorked then and there. Long end runs with Captain Thompson usually carrying the ball, quick and hard line plunging by Buford and Perkinson, long passes, short passes and all kinds of passes shot from quarterback Clover's hands into the waiting arms of some fast Cat far down the field, fast Cat ends flew down the field under Clover's long punts and when the dust had settled after the battle the scoreboard showed that the Cats had rung up twenty-six points in the second half and their defense got a hump in their back and Palestine had failed to make a single first down. I gotta hand it to the Cats for what they did in the second half even though I am still sore about the way they out the first half and I am not handing the credit to any certain one for

What is more the Palestine fans and players were not a bit silly with their praise and they all voted the Cats as the most brilliant and hard fighting eleven that had trotted upon the home town gridiron—and that's saying a whole lot.

From Palestine I jumped to Dallas and sat on the side lines while Baylor stopped SMU and practically clinched the Conference title and while I was a bit disappointed in Jones missing that goal from the field that prevented Baylor from winning at the same time I was tickled at the magnificent stand the Gold and Green made when Stolly & Co. staged that last terrific assault in the last few minutes of play which was stopped when Jack Sisco leaped high into the air and snagged one of Stolly's long passes.

Baylor's march down the field to the touchdown was worth any man's money and for sheer diving power and pure grit I hand them the palm.

REV. V. K. AUBREY NAMED HEAD OF WORK TO BE DONE

A conference of representatives from various organizations of our city was held in the office of Mr. Jess McLondon at ten o'clock this morning and it was decided that it would be advisable to raise funds for a COMMUNITY CHEST in the near future. Rev. Victor K. Aubrey was appointed leader of Community Chest Campaign, for coming year.

The advisory committee is preparing a budget which is to include adequate provision for the work of the Salvation Army, Charity, the Red Cross, and other related causes. The committee is endeavoring to carefully investigate each claim for financial support and assures the public that the expenditure of all money collected will be carefully guarded by those of our own local citizenship in charge of each particular organization.

Rev. Aubrey states that the Campaign will be carefully planned and organized and that each club, Church, and organization of the city will be expected to do its part to make the Community Chest a success. It is a well known fact that all of the leading aggressive cities are adopting this plan for providing for the needs of the community work. It has been the plan utilized this past year in Mexia and the work has been conducted without special appeals for money which are so numerous under the old system. The Salvation Army, the Red Cross, and caring for the poor, sick and needy, is a worthy work and is better done under proper supervision. The Community Chest is a good thing for Mexia and never have the people of Mexia failed to support a cause when they were really convinced of its worthy character.

Mr. Boyd of the Mexia News, who was present at the meeting promised the support of the newspaper. Mr. J. K. Hughes pledged $510.00 for the Community Chest. Mr. Womack said that he would make his pledge the same as last year. It was suggested that if those who contributed last year gave on the same basis again this year that the Community Chest would be filled for the amount required.

AT ELPASO TODAY A. F. OF L. OPENS MEETING OF YEAR

(By United Press)
EL PASO, Texas, Nov. 17.—An address by its president, Samuel Gompers, and the annual report of the executive committee, was to be the first order of business at the opening session of the 44th annual convention of the American Federation of Labor here today.

Representatives of more than 100 labor organizations in the United States, embracing a membership of some 3,000,000, were here to participate in the convention.

A committee on resolutions was to be named soon after the session got under way.

The guests Sunday of the Mexican Federation of Labor, which is holding its convention at Juarez, a bull fight featured the entertainment program.

Today's session was to be called to order by President Gompers at 10 a.m. Mountain Time.

Following addresses of welcome by George Slater, president of the Texas Federation, and others, the veteran labor chieftain was to sound the call for organized labor to unite its forces and prepare to fight any attempt at wage reductions. The gavel to be used by Gompers in calling the convention to order, is made of wood from a historic red gum tree at Nacogdoches, Texas, under which General Sam Houston conferred with Spanish and Indians on a land treaty in early days.

The executive council's report which outlined the convention's deliberations was to be presented next. It included the questions of whether labor shall continue its present non-partisan political policy or support a labor party movement, whether labor shall recommend recognition of Soviet Russia and whether the carpenter's union with a membership of 350,000 shall be expelled for failure to reaffiliate with the building trades department.

FEW HOURS OLD INFANT FOUND ON DOORSTEP MONDAY

About day light Monday morning one of the employees of the Mexia Battery and Tire Station No. 1 was attracted by the sound of a crying baby coming from in front of the Henson Hotel on Palestine street. Upon investigation he discovered a small pasteboard box barely fifteen inches square containing a small baby girl which was apparently only five or six hours old. The baby was clad in a cheaply made dress which looked as if it had been made for it, and was resting on a bed made of soft cotton which had been pulled from inside a mattress, the cover had been pulled over the box to keep the baby as warm as possible but it had been on the sidewalk long enough to become chilled.

Chief of Police Albert Mace was immediately notified of the discovery and took the baby in charge; upon being carried near the fire and again becoming warm the tiny baby ceased crying and seemed very well contented. Chief Mace notified Dr. M. M. Brown who suggested that the baby be carried to the Brown Hospital where it was given medical attention. It apparently is getting along all right upon being given nourishment and a warm bed.

Chief Mace is working on the case and hopes to solve the mystery of the missing parents, although he has no clue with the exception of the box which contained the baby. It is thought that the baby was brought from a nearby town and left on the sidewalk on Palestine street where it was found a few hours later.

This belief is based on the fact that the tiny little soul was placed in a box used for earned corn, which kind is not handled by any local wholesale or retail house.

It was apparent that the child had been born only a few hours and had not received medical attention, until taken in charge by Dr. Brown of the Brown Hospital.

The baby will probably be turned over to the Salvation Army authorities who have already asked for it, pending its adoption which is very probable as the Police Station has had many calls asking for permission to adopt the baby girl.

MARLAND PARTY VISITS NORTH EAST MEXIA DISTRICT

The Marland Special reached the Mexia Oil field district Sunday, including President Marland and about 15 of the most prominent men in the oil fraternity in the United States.

Hearing that Colonel A. E. Humphreys of the Bold Oil Company, President Marland, of Ponca City, Oklahoma, the entire party transferred to automobiles from their special car at Corsicana and visited the Northeast Mexia district. There they spent quite a while in conference. The party visited the Boyd Boyd lease, where Colonel Humphreys was personally supervising the work building the dam across Tehuacana creek. He escorted the party of visitors to the Boyd number 1 on the Boyd and opened up the test which roared so loud that speaking was difficult to hear close up, spraying wet gas.

President Marland was much impressed with the prospects. His company, which holds over a hundred thousand acres in leases in Texas, has some acreage in the Northeast Mexia territory. Mr. Marland is considered one of the big men in the petroleum world. Of him, Colonel Humphreys said: "He is the biggest independent oil man in the U. S. and the biggest individual in the oil game."

On the Boyd lease 2 one thousand flow tanks have been erected and another is going up. It is rumored, too, that the Boyd Oil Company has a 55 ordered.

Mr. Marland is in Texas inspecting the oil fields of the state and has just returned from Reagan County, where E. L. Smith Oil Company and J. K. Hughes Developing Company have started a joint well in the new field on University land. Mr. Marland states that details have been completed for the new pipe line to that field.

Business picked up in the prospective producing area this morning when the Kirby Petroleum Company made three new locations on the J. S. Bounds, just south of Wortham and started moving on. It is believed that the E. L. Smith Oil Company will also start a well on the company's 8 1/2 acre lease adjoining the Kirby's acreage.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound now because

it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous.

A committee of ladies and gentlemen met at the office of Jesse McLondon this morning to go over the charity needs of Mexia for the future year and the means of taking care of the situation. Local doctors are urging the retention of the Salvation Army almost to the man, if not everyone of them.

The Salvation Army Sunday School continues to grow. In recent months, while the contest has been on, the attendance has jumped from around 50 to 75 every Sunday afternoon.

WHOLE COMMUNITY SHARES IN BENEFITS OF THRIFT

By S. W. STRAUS,
President American Society for Thrift

THE president of a building and loan association in a small Western town recently told of the erection of five new houses in that community. These houses, he said, involved an expenditure of $22,000. Seventeen workmen benefited directly from the money paid for labor. In addition, it was found upon investigation that exactly 63 business firms benefited either directly through purchases of materials and household furnishings or indirectly through money spent by the 17 laborers.

This is an illustration of some of the general community benefits that come from personal thrift. It was the thrift of only five families that made possible the erection of the houses, yet practically everyone in the community shared in the results, directly or indirectly. One sometimes hears the theory advanced that thrift hurts business because people who are economical do not spend much money. In former years this fallacious reasoning was much more prevalent than it is today.

The business man in any community makes no mistake in encouraging thrift, even when looked at from the most selfish standpoint. Money that is saved finds its way immediately into the channels of trade, and all lines of legitimate business share in the results.

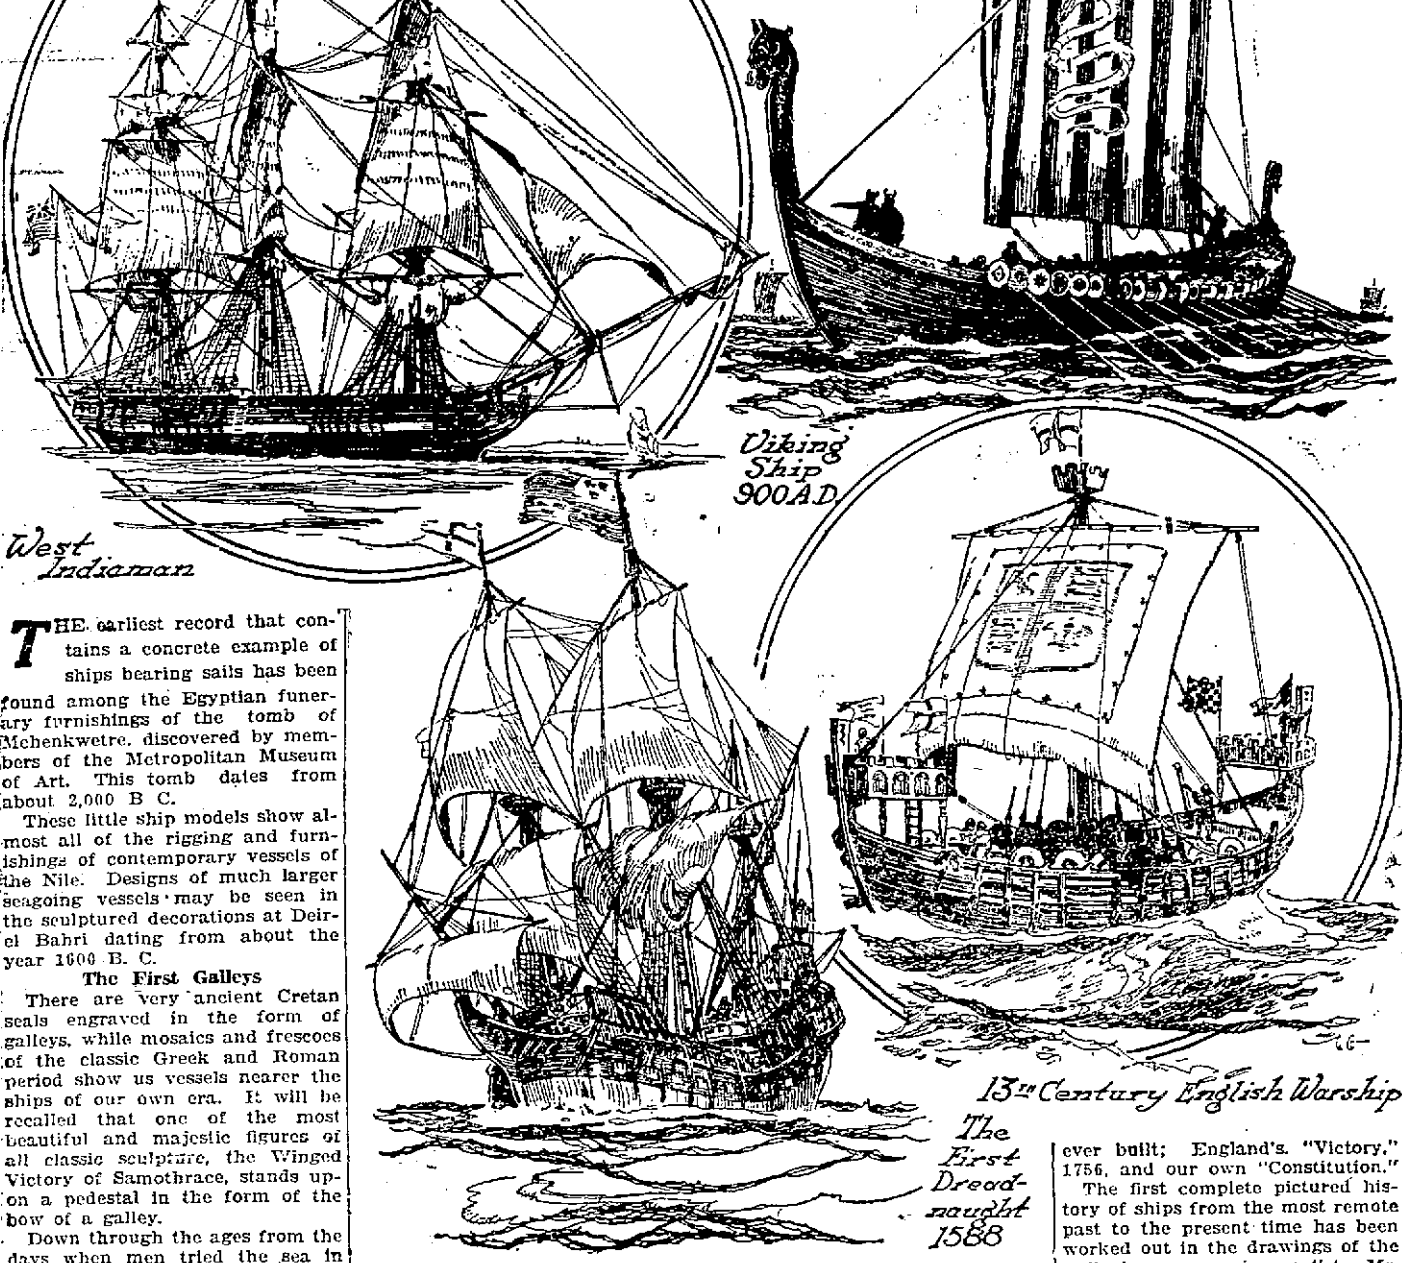

All of this is in addition to the moral, mental and material advantages to the individual whose thrift practices start the endless chain of wholesome processes. Community leaders can do nothing of greater constructive civic value than to give all possible encouragement to thrift.

Frank Boyd, a brother in law to Colonel A. E. Humphreys, and Bob Stivers, bankers and shoe manufacturers of Ripley, Ohio, who have been the guests of the Colonel the past week and local visitors have returned to their homes, thoroughly enthused over the bright prospects found in Northeast Mexia.

E. L. Crow returned Sunday night from Waco where he spent Saturday and Sunday at the bedside of his mother, who is seriously ill. His many friends hope for her speedy recovery. Her condition was some better when he left but is still a source of alarm. The family is one of the oldest in Waco and much concern is felt there because of her illness.

40 Centuries of Ships

Drawings by
GORDON GRANT

THE earliest record that contains a concrete example of ships bearing sails has been found among the Egyptian funerary furnishings of the tomb of Mekenkette, discovered by members of the Metropolitan Museum of Art. This tomb dates from about 2,000 B. C.

These little ship models show almost all of the rigging and furnishings of contemporary vessels of the Nile. Designs of much larger seagoing vessels may be seen in the sculptured decorations at Deir el Bahri dating from about the year 1600 B. C.

The First Galleys There are very ancient Cretan seals engraved in the form of galleys, while mosaics and frescoes of the classic Greek and Roman period show us vessels nearer the ships of our own era. It will be recalled that one of the most beautiful and majestic figures of all classic sculpture, the Winged Victory of Samothrace, stands upon a pedestal in the form of the bow of a galley.

Down through the ages from the days when men tried the sea in rafts and dugout canoes, to the superb clippers, of the fifties, ships have shown the progress of mankind. One of the most important dates in the records of antiquities of sailing ships is the Viking Longship discovered at

Gokstad in Norway in the year 1892. It is a fine example of a ship built about the year 900 A. D. After that the best documentary evidence is that furnished in the engravings of ships of the master of the 15th century who signed them with a mark something like the letters "W. A.". The history and romance of the sea is replete with such high lights as 1639, the date of the launching of the "Sovereign of the Seas," one of the most elaborately decorated ships ever built; England's "Victory," 1756, and our own "Constitution." The first complete pictured history of ships from the most remote past to the present time has been worked out in the drawings of the well known marine artist, Mr. Gordon Grant. These drawings in the "Book of Old Ships," with text by Henry B. Culver, show the romance and the mystery of the sea in the fading memory of the sailing ships of other days.

World War Made U. S. Coast Defense Obsolete, Report

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—As a result of the World War, practically all the seacoast fortifications and other defenses of the United States and its possessions became obsolete, due to developments in the range and power of artillery mounted on capital ships, and it is part of the work of the Engineer Corps to work out and build new defenses, according to the annual report of Major-General Harry Taylor, Chief of Engineers, to the Secretary of War, made public today.

The World War, General Taylor's report asserted, showed that not only were these defenses underpowered in major armament, but defense against aircraft was either lacking or totally inadequate. The only anti-aircraft searchlights available were those purchased during the war, which were limited in number and in many cases unsuitable.

Practically all available railroad artillery will be of value in strengthening our coast defenses, General Taylor reports, but the 14-inch, 50-calibre 1920 model gun is the only one which may be classed as major seacoast armament, and its availability only in limited numbers.

"The effective use of mobile railway artillery depends primarily upon the capability of existing railroads to transport it," General Taylor's report asserts, "and, fortunately, data collected indicate that the more important units can be moved with comparative freedom throughout the United States and can be installed in a short time. Firing positions for railway artillery are now being selected."

In his report, General Taylor reveals that during the year the Board of Engineer Equipment at Fort Humphreys, Va., which is charged with the development of engineer equipment, has developed light, medium and heavy types of pontoon equipment; portable steel highway bridges, pile drivers and bathing units, gasoline pumping sets and shop truck units, and has made extensive tests in burlap substitutes and with tractors.

ECONOMIC PROGRESS

In a review of business conditions for the year ending June 30, 1924, made public at the Department of Commerce today, Secretary Hoover says:

"The outstanding features of the fiscal year were: First, the advance in agricultural prices, which had hitherto lagged behind industry since the slump of 1920; second, the beginnings of sound policies in German reparations leading to a hopeful measure of economic recovery in Europe; and third, the complete recovery of our own industry and commerce (aside from agriculture), great stability of prices, high production, full employment, expanding foreign trade and prosperity throughout the business world. There were some moderate decreases in activity of some lines during the latter part of the fiscal year, but since its close there has again been general recovery in those lines."

The review, which will later be incorporated in the annual report of the Secretary of Commerce, is headed "Economic Progress." It covers industry, agriculture, transportation, banking and finance, the Dawes Plan, and foreign trade.

A table of "Major Economic Indexes," based on the calendar year 1919 as 100, shows that the general level of business activity was decidedly higher than even in that prosperous year. The table indicates the following changes in the volume of business (quantities, not value) in the fiscal year 1924 as compared with the fiscal year 1923: The index of manufacturing production dropped slightly, being 115 in 1924 as compared with 116 in 1923. Mineral production rose from 118 in 1923 to 131 in 1924. Forest products production rose from 111 to 117. Railroad freight (ton-miles) rose from 109 to 110, electric power production from 136 to 148, building contracts let (sq. feet) from 107 to 109.

Notwithstanding far lower prices than in 1919 the value of sales of retail stores was greater in 1924 than in that year. Thus the value of Department stores sales stood at 120 in 1923 and 128 in 1924, of Five and Ten Cent Stores at 152 and 173 respectively. In the case of mail-order houses the indexes rose from 90 in 1923 to 100 in 1924, and of wholesale trade from 80 to 82, the lower indexes as compared with 1919 being wholly due to the decline in prices. Based upon the calendar year 1913 as 100 the general average of wholesale prices dropped from 156 in 1923 to 150 in 1924.

Mr. Hoover goes on to discuss the slight slackening in production at the end of the fiscal year and the subsequent recovery shown by the September indexes, which for manufacturing production stood 13 points higher than in June. Of the most importance, however, the agricultural recovery by September had proceeded to a point where the wholesale price index of farm products was 143 on the 1913 base as compared to 149 for the price of all commodities, thus marking the reestablishment of the farmers' buying power at much more nearly the pre-war ratio.

"The outstanding event of the year was the improvement in agricultural prices," the Secretary's statement continues. "The situation of agricultural prices may be well indicated by comparing September prices with the general level of commodity prices. Based upon 1913 as 100 the wholesale price index of all commodities was 149. The corresponding price index of No. 1 northern wheat was 148; of cotton (New York), 191; corn, 186; and hogs, 118. From the low point since the beginning of 1921 these figures represent recoveries: for wheat, of 27 points; cotton, 99; corn, 111; and hogs, 37. Many readjustments are needed yet, but agriculture has turned an important corner and this change marks a vital step in the whole after-war economic readjustment."

Turning to transportation, Mr. Hoover says:

"This fiscal year marks the first occasion since long before the war when our railway facilities have been completely equal to the demand of the country. There were no car shortages of any consequence. There was a speeding up of delivery of all goods. This complete reconstruction, expansion, and growing efficiency in transportation facilities marks a fine accomplishment on the part of our railway management. Its economic effect is most far-reaching. Every car shortage is a strangulation in the movement of commodities which reduces price levels to the producer and increases them to the consumer. It disarranges the synchronizing of our industrial fabric and widens the margin all along the line between producer and consumer. There is still requirement for extension of terminals and readjustment of rates. There are large consolidations needed for the ultimate best service and sound finance."

Discussing statistics of Federal Reserve member bank operations, the Secretary declares that the figures indicate "a high degree of stability." The statement goes on to point out the improvement in the international exchange situation. Of the Dawes plan, Mr. Hoover has this to say:

"European stabilization, which this plan may be expected to achieve, will bring about a revival in world trade and increased consumption of commodities, in which the United States is bound to have its share. This trade revival and increased consumption power should outweigh any increased competitive power which might be expected from the execution of the plan. It is not too much to say that this settlement of the vexed preparation problem, coming at the time it did, prevented another European collapse, with its inevitable repercussion on world trade and on the business of the United States. The Dawes plan is the first effort to solve the reparations question purely on a commercial and economic basis."

Figures for foreign trade quoted in the statement indicate that in the fiscal year under review exports increased 9 per cent in value as compared with the preceding fiscal year, while imports decreased 6 per cent. The net result of these changes in opposite direction was an increase in the excess of exports over imports from $176,000,000, in 1922-23 to $757,000,000 in 1923-24. While in absolute amount this as a larger export balance than in any year prior to the war, the percentage by which exports exceed imports is somewhat smaller than in most pre-war years.

"The outstanding feature of our foreign trade in commodities," according to Mr. Hoover, "is its strong, real growth since 1913. Our total imports and exports in that fiscal year amounted to $4,279,000,000 against $7,865,000,000 in 1923-24. If we correct this difference by the depreciated buying power of the dollar the increase is 18.2 per cent. This compares with decreases of 12 per cent for the United Kingdom, 14 per cent for France, and 51.4 per cent for Germany."

"The gain in our total trade over the fiscal year 1913 is largely accounted for by the marked increases in our trade with Asia, Oceania, and South America. The value of trade with Asia increased 244 per cent and that with Oceania and South America 192 and 95 per cent, respectively. Although the actual value of trade with Europe is greater than prior to the war the gain is less than the increase in prices and the actual quantity of goods is smaller. This decline in the relative importance of Europe as a factor in our trade as other areas gain is in part a continuation of a gradual shift in this direction evident before the war and in part the result of the war's serious impairment of European commercial strength."

Jellybean-Flapper Have Normal Minds Notwithstanding

(By United Press)
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 15.—Under the slick-haired scalp of the high school "jelly" and beneath the bobbed locks of his sister are fast acting, alert brains—grasping details of mathematics, history and literature more rapidly than was done by the student of thirty years ago.

The flaring pants boys are just as intelligent as were the lads of the home spun trousers; the 1924 high school flapper acquires knowledge as thoroughly as the modest maiden of the 90's and with less effort.

Fred M. Hunter, Oakland, Calif., past president of the National Educational Association here for the annual meeting of the Missouri Teachers Association declared in an interview with the United Press the modern high school student is "only keeping pace with the rest of the world."

"They are just as studious, just as intelligent and have just as high scholastic standing as did their fathers and mothers," said Hunter.

"What is lacking in modern schools is sufficient moral and character education," he declared.

Notre Dame Loses 21 Letter Players of Gridiron Team

(By International News Service)
NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Stuhldreher, Crowley, D. Miller and Layden, forming the greatest backfield of recent years, will have taken themselves hence. So will Adam Walsh, probable All-American center, and Back and Collins, possible All-American tackle and end respectively, to say nothing of twenty-one monogram men in all. That is Notre Dame's prospect for the season of 1925.

It is not a very alluring one. In fact, the Irish would seem to be in for the first indifferent team they have known in modern football. Even Knute Rockne, the miracle coach who annually makes orchids bloom where only cactus grew before, concedes that all may not be well in 1925.

"It will do them good to have a losing season," says Rockne, always a philosopher. "It will teach them that life is not always a winning proposition. A few hard knocks are a good thing for any young man or team."

This does not mean, however, that Rockne is resigned to a bad year; merely that he fears the worst. For the first time since he has been identified with Notre Dame football there will be no respectable residue of veteran material remaining between seasons. Not only his great backfield, but all of its immediate substitutes, barring O'Boyle, will pass on.

This means that Rockne will have to build his attack around O'Boyle, necessitating a change of system. The present one demands so much painstaking application to detail that a green backfield could hardly hope to master it, particularly the intricacies of the shift, in a single season.

They say that Rockne ran around during an entire week this year, shouting at the letter-perfect combination of Stuhldreher, Miller, Crowley and Layden:

"Rhythm, rhythm, rhythm!" They perform now like a bevy of classical dancers, but at that time he was far from satisfied with them. A new combination, therefore, would send him into hysterics.

That Rockne means to alter his attack next year is indicated by the fact that he plans to use Hanousek, a second string guard, as his full-back. Hanousek is reasonably fast for a big man, but is hardly the Notre Dame type of back featured by Rockne in the last half dozen years. His appearance in the backfield probably means that Rockne will shift his style of attack to a running and passing game such as he used several years ago. His passing has been negligible this fall because of the great running ability of Don Miller, Crowley and Layden. The overhead game merely has been employed as a threat.

This only goes to show Rockne's adaptability to conditions, as does the fact that his first team hasn't been scrimmaged since Oct. 4 and will not be during the present season. He has a light team and has to save his men somehow, but only Rockne would dare save them at the expense of the daily workout. Rockne, however, dares anything and everything. That is one of the abiding factors in his success.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga. (Adv.)

"THE STORE AHEAD"

England Fears U. S. Supremacy In Air Traffic

LONDON, November 12. — The United States is destined to lead the world in international aerial transportation, some experts here predict. The flight of the ZR3, from Germany to New Jersey, the acquisition of that airship by the United States, and the plan for German Zeppelin experts to join Americans in building dirigibles at Akron, Ohio, mark the beginning, many here believe, of a new aerial era—in which America will take first place.

Transportation men here say that the United States will accomplish in the air all that she failed to do on the sea.

By that they mean that the U. S. Shipping Board boats failed in the North Atlantic to take away the business of the other companies, mostly British, plying between New York and English and Channel ports. They mean that in the opinion of British seamen, shippers and transportation experts, the United States post-war merchant marine has been pretty much of a flop. They mean that American outfits have failed to grab the North Atlantic carrying trade on the surface of the sea—and they mean, look out if the Yanks ever start to running airships instead of steamboats across the Atlantic.

And the ZR3 paves the way for America to do just that thing, authorities on this side declare.

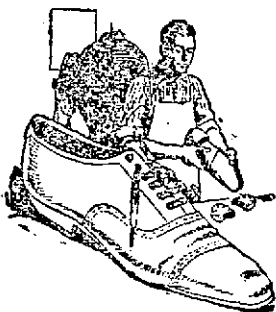

Between 1914 and 1918 the Germans made amazing developments in the Zeppelin. Now, with German experts who know all the secrets, working at Akron with Americans who are certainly not shy in either skill, inventiveness or money, the ultimate product is expected when that is done a regular transatlantic aerial passenger and goods carrying service will be simple enough.

In four years, from 1914 to 1918, the Germans increased the volume of lifting gas in Zeppelins from 794,250 to 3,812,400 cubic feet; increased the "useful load" from 8 tons to 82 tons; increased the speed from 47 to 83 miles per hour. Most important of all, the "aerostatic co-efficient of utilization" was increased from 20 per cent in 1914 to 59 per cent in 1918. This "co-efficient" expresses the relation between the useful load which an airship can carry and the total weight of that airship. It means that in 1912 two-thirds of the load was wasted. Most of the load the Zeppelin carried then was itself. Now more than half its load is "useful"—that is, passengers, freight, mail, baggage.

Experts point to this progress and say: "Great guns if the Germans and the Americans get together in building Zeppelins and continue the improvement—as no doubt they will—there's no telling how far they will go! And no other European country can ever touch them. No other country even has a start. They'll have the Atlantic air trade grabbed!"

Steamships cannot materially increase their present Atlantic schedules. Even to speed up a few knots an hour runs up a huge, and disproportionate coal or oil bill, and the few hours gained in the crossing is not worth while from a business standpoint. It is utterly impossible for steamships to compete in speed with airships. Heavy shipments and relatively slow traffic, freight and passenger, will no doubt continue always to be by ship—but the fast stuff, passenger, mail and goods will be zeppelins over the Atlantic in American Zeppelins, operating on regular bi-weekly service before very many years—if the dopesters on this side know what they're talking about.

HINTS TELL HOW TO REDUCE GAS BILLS

Gas wasted performs no useful work but must be paid for.

Ethel R. Peyser in House & Garden gives a few simple rules governing the proper use of burners. First of all she says to use only a low blue flame and to keep the burners and oven clean.

"Use the simmerer and not the giant burner for everything possible, and herein lies a material saving. Use it to keep food warm and for slow top range cookery. It's easier, too, to keep the simmerer where you want it, than the large burner.

"The top lighter is the best economy on the range. Always see that it is lit before the other burner is turned on.

"The ranges with pilots lights require no matches. But see that this pilot light is lighted and does not go out and let gas escape.

"Boiling point is 212 degrees. Don't keep your water boiling so long and hard with the large flame, for you can't get more than boiling point and you are wasting money. Turn the flame down and save money.

"You will save the discoloration of your pots and pans inside, above the water line if you use the burner a little smaller than the utensil.

"Slow cookery with small flame gives the best results in boiling, roasting etc. "Keep the covers on your utensils for the most part, and have them fit well.

"Turn off the burner even if you are going to use it in a few moments—for you waste too much gas, as minutes pass into hours.

"Remember in the use of gas, it's always easier to use too much, than too little. Gas is intensely hot and a little goes a long way.

WATKINS, N. Y., Nov. 17.—She was a simple country lass, but then—

She had no right on his radiator. Such is the contention of C. N. Cole, of this village, who has no immediate desire for the friendship of a healthy cow. While driving near the David Love farm one brown-eyed, sleek-haired bossy, bored by the dire monotony of rural life, leaped on the radiator of his automobile.

"Come, let us fly or flee," she "mooed." But Cole "mooed" right back and bovine, thinking better of her hasty proposition, slid over the other side of the machine. Her gentle step broke one windshield and two fenders.

(By International News Service)
CHICO, Cal., Nov. 17.—Reverting to savagery, a four-year-old pet bear, weighing 400 pounds, charged down on a group of children and killed Georgia Pepper, three, at Durham, as her playmates looked on.

The child was dragged into a log den by the bear, which fought off attempts of neighbors at rescue. The bear was shot to death.

Girl's Dress in Figured Crepe

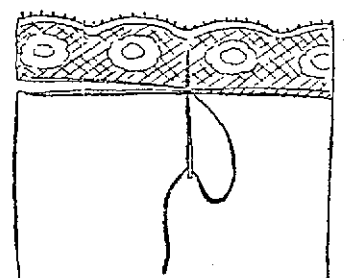

Paris Varies the Youthful Waistline

The printed silks of bold design and bright coloring are favored for frocks for girls this season. Straight lines and simple designs keep these French models within the requirements of the youthful.

Two or three unusual features distinguish the frock for young girls, which calls for 2 1/2 yards of 36-inch figured crepe and one-half yard of Georgette for trimming. In addition to two yards of lace edging and two yards of ribbon. The sleeves are cut in one with the waist and the neck is finished with a round collar scalloped at the front and divided on the shoulders. The illustration shows how to whip the lace to the edge of the Georgette to ornament the collar and cuffs. It is necessary to roll the edge of the Georgette to make the work dainty. To make the roll hem, first trim the edge of the Georgette until no ragged edges show. Hold the wrong side of the material toward you, trimmed edge up. Begin at either the right or left hand side of the work, holding the top of the Georgette so that the thumbs catch the very top of the thread. Keep the other fingers on the opposite or right side, close to the top of the work. Now, with both thumbs roll the top thread over two or three times, always rolling toward you. The work cannot be done nearly so quickly or so neatly with one thumb as with two. Roll only an inch or two at a time. Hold the lace edging away from you, with the edge of the lace just above the edge of the roll. In this way it is possible to see the meshes easily. Whip through the mesh, holding the lace slightly full and the roll tight. Draw the thread tight, but not so tight that it will make the work draw.

Rolling edge of georgette and adding lace.

With girls, as with their elders, Paris is undecided about the waistline, so by cleverly using twin ribbons, she is able to feature it in both high and low effect. This model is so simple and easy to make that many mothers, as well as girls who are old enough to sew for themselves, will use it in other materials for the fall.

Temporary Relief Planned By U. S. For Farm Districts

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—The commission appointed by President Coolidge to advise him on agricultural policies will make a study going far beyond the problem of temporary relief.

President Coolidge has instructed the commission to be prepared to report to him measures which may become fundamental factors in a permanent governmental policy toward agriculture.

The president disclosed in his speech to the land grant college meeting last night that he is convinced an era of tremendous change is approaching in American farming. He believes that "within a very few years" the United States will become one of the greatest buyers of farm products instead of one of the greatest sellers.

With this fundamental revolution imminent in the American farming world Mr. Coolidge believes the Government should be prepared with an adequate policy toward agriculture. In a general way measures should be taken to assure the American farmer the most scientific means of production and distribution.

"If we permit our farming population to fall to the level of a mere agricultural peasantry they will carry down with them the general social and economic level," he pointed out.

The President did not indicate in his speech last night what the scope of the new farm policy might be. He will deliver another address November 17 before the Agricultural commission which is expected to outline his plans more definitely.

"Good-bye old crutch!"

THERE IS positively no longer any excuse for suffering the agonies of rheumatism! Especially in the autumn of your life, when the vital organs weaken, impurities multiply and linger in the muscles and joints, as never before. It is now, just now, when you cannot afford to guess. No day returns!

Here is a joyous fact which can mean to you a fond farewell forever to all the miseries, the tortures, the body-twisting pains that you have suffered from the demon of rheumatism. It is a fact that rheumatism means "blood poverty." It is a fact with the increase of red-cells in your blood, impurities are destroyed. It is a fact that S.S.S. will help Nature build these red-blood-cells! S.S.S. is one of the most powerful blood cleansers in existence. Its results in thousands of rheumatic cases have been nothing short of amazing! The medicinal ingredients of S.S.S. are purely vegetable. This is very important to remember! What can be more inspiring, more wonderful than to see the shackles of pain released from your struggling body, swellings, lingering pains, stiffness of joints and muscles all disappear; your stomach made strong; your face pink with the old sweet, heart glow, your blood enriched and your cheeks more plump as they used to be. You can do it! Take S.S.S., the great destroyer of rheumatic impurities.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

SINCE 1882—THE OLD RELIABLE

SPORTLIGHTS

By HECK.

Well, the Black Cats did it and did it to a frazzle as per my dope and just because they came back fighting when it looked like a sure win for Palestine. However, my dope as to the score was all wrong and I don't think anyone thought that the Cats would roll up forty points and everybody expected Palestine to tally more than fourteen. The few fans who were on the Palestine side lines suffered forty different kinds of suffers during that first half when the Cats played about the worst football I have ever been forced to watch.

The first three plays tried by the Cats were fumbled and on the fourth down Mexia had about forty yards to make—Boy, it sure did look bad from there on until the end of the first half.

Dick Buford, who has not made much headway since the Coolidge game, came back with a bang and taking the initial kickoff under the Cat goal posts legged it for ninety eight yards and the Cats first touchdown in just exactly seventeen seconds after the game opened. However the Palestine bunch set their heavy backs in motion and tore the Cat line to ribbons and reeled off yards after yards in a seemingly never ending string and went over for a touchdown without losing the ball.

Every Cat played just about as rotten as possible during the Palestine parade and a few minutes later Mexia was forced to kick from their ten yard line the heavy charging tackles of Palestine broke through, blocked the punt and fell on the ball on Mexia's one yard line and proceeded to put over a touchdown after four heavy assaults on the Cat line. The Cats tied the score at fourteen all when captain Thompson plunged over for a touchdown just before the half ended.

At the end of the first half Coach Potteet took the Cats off in a corner of the park and delivered a grand oration that would do credit to the masters of the dark ages and when the second half opened an entirely different Cat eleven trotted out on the field meowing and spitting.

To go into details would be a long, long story but I will say that I have never yet seen such a remarkable comeback and reversal of form as the Cats uncorked then and there. Long end runs with Captain Thompson usually carrying the ball, quick and hard line plunging by Buford and Perkins, long passes, short passes and all kinds of passes shot from quarterback Clover's hands into the waiting arms of some fast Cat far down the field, fast Cat ends flew down the field under Clover's long punts and when the dust had settled after the battle the scoreboard showed that the Cats had rung up twenty-six points in the second half and their defense got a hump in their back and Palestine had failed to make a single first down. I gotta hand it to the Cats for what they did in the second half even though I am still sore about the way they did the first half and I am not handing the credit to any certain one for every dad blasted one of 'em played spectacular ball from end to end and all four in the back field.

Miss Margaret "Peggy" Thayer, daughter of a vice-president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and socially prominent in Philadelphia, has sailed for Mombasa, British East Africa, to hunt lions, tigers and other big game through the forests in which Colonel Theodore Roosevelt hunted. Roosevelt's guide, Tarleton, will act in the same capacity for Miss Thayer. Her trophies are to be presented to the Academy of Natural Science in Philadelphia.

What is more the Palestine fans and players were not a bit stingy with their praise and they all voted the Cats as the most brilliant and hard fighting eleven that had trod upon the home town gridiron—and that's saying a whole lot.

From Palestine I jumped to Dallas and sat on the side lines while Baylor stopped SMU and practically clinched the Conference title and while I was a bit disappointed in Jones missing that goal from the field that prevented Baylor from winning at the same time I was tickled at the magnificent stand the Gold and Green made when Stolly & Co. staged that last terrific assault in the last few minutes of play which was stopped when Jack Sisco leaped high into the air and snagged one of Stolly's long passes.

Baylor's march down the field to the touchdown was worth any man's money and for sheer driving power and pure grit I hand them the palm.

Big Sam Coates was the boy that sank SMU's ship and I hate to think what would have happened to Baylor if the big tackle had been out of the game. Reiser was the star of SMU in spite of the fact that Stolly and Walling usually carried the ball.

Next Friday the Cats meet the strong Class A Corsicana Hi at Nowlin park and you fans get busy and make your arrangements now to be at the game and even though the Cats are doped to lose by two touchdowns they will stage a fight that will send you home feeling like you had seen something worth while.

Westminster To Play Clifton On Tehuacana Field

Charles Lewis, Coach of the football squad at Westminster College, announces that the game this week will be played with Clifton College at Tehuacana. The Westminster eleven is now in good shape for the game. Since the game with Rusk, the squad has nursed many injuries, which kept eight of the first string men out of scrimmage for a week following. Clifton has a strong team and the game will prove hard fought and interesting, with the Wildcats having the edge on the visitors.

An Ill Wind That Blows No One Good

BEAUMONT, Nov. 17. — Texas buzzards are enjoying real fish-feeds these days, according to George White, county surveyor for Jefferson county who has been making extensive surveys in the county recently.

Prolonged drouths have dried practically all streams until the fish are found in great numbers off the smallest pockets of water, White says. Buzzards sweep down in droves and devour the fish by the hundreds, according to the county official.
